Plans Ready For Turney

High school debaters will participate in the first annual Forensic Debating Tournament of the Robert Bellarmine Debating Society for Loyola on Saturday, May 12, at Evergreen. Invitations have been extended not only to Baltimore institutions, but also to Washington and Philadelphia schools.

The tournament will consist of five rounds of debating beginning at 9:30 a.m. Topic of the contest will be the national high-school question: "Resolved; That the Extended Welfare Legislation is Detrimental to Our National System."

An extemporaneous speaking contest is also scheduled. Each participant will be expected to give a brief talk on a subject of current national importance. There will be one preliminary round and a second round for the previous victors.

Joseph Blair, general chairman of the tournament and president of the debating society, announced that Sen. Herbert R. O'Connor will present the trophies to the winning schools and to the best debaters. The assembly will close about 5:30 p.m.

Those schools who have been invited include: Institute of Notre Dame, Seton, Notre Dame of Maryland, Mt. St. Joseph, Loyola High, Towson Catholic, Catholic High, Milford Mill, Gilman, City College, Polytechnic, St. Paul's, McDonogh, Mt. St. Agnes, Calvert Hall, Southern, Patterson Park, Forest Park, Catonsville and Towson. Mr. James A. Perrott, speech teacher, will moderate the session.

Talks on Marriage

A Cana Conference for married couples will be held in the library building on Sunday, May 20 which will be open to students and alumni and their wives. Twenty to thirty couples is desired to keep the talks on an informal basis. The conference will begin at 1:30 P. M. and will include three talks by the Rev. John J. Scanlan, S. J., instructor in Ethics.

After a discussion period, the day will end at 5:00 P. M. with renewal of marriage vows in the chapel, followed by Benediction. Interested couples should communicate with Fr. Scanlan.

Alpha Sigma Nu Receives Nine

Impressive ceremonies marked the induction of nine members into Alpha Sigma Nu, national Jesuit honor fraternity, last Sunday evening at Evergreen. Received into the fraternity were Peter Stehle, Jason Brunk, John Garland, Eugene Conroy, Lawrence Rodowsky, Howard J. France, G. Joseph Sills, George Strohecker and Edward Pula.

The Very Rev. Thomas Murray, S. J., President of Loyola, received the nine members and presented them with the ASN key. Francis X. Trainor, co-president of the 1950 Chapter, conducted the reception.

Following the exercises in the faculty house, the present members of ASN and many alumni attended an informal banquet in the Oak Room of the Library building. Among the alumni present were Francis X. Gallagher, Edward Clarke, William C. Rogers, Jr., Francis Pugh, George Miller, Terrence Burke, John H. Plunkett and Daniel Bathon.

Five Nominated For Presidency

Official ballot for Student Council President and President of the Athletic Association will contain the names of five members of the Junior Class. Candidates for President of the Student Body are Howard France, Edward Pula, Lawrence Rodowsky, and Anthony Spartana. James Bullington is the only nominee for the Athletic Association presidency.

France is Editor-in-Chief of THE GREYHOUND; a member of Alpha Sigma Nu, national Jesuit Fraternity; the Mask and Rapier Society publicity director and represented Maryland at the annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers. He is also a Student Council member.

Pula is Loyola's senior delegate to the National Federation of Catholic College Students, a member of ASN, vice-prefect of the Junior Sodality in his sophomore year and is the present social secretary of the Student Council.

Rodowsky is a member of the Glee Club, Mask and Rapier Society, the International Relations Club, THE GREYHOUND, ASN and Parliamentarian of the Student Council.

Spartana has been awarded five letters in the past three years for being manager of the varsity basketball and tennis teams; a member of the IRC, vice-president of the Junior class and a writer on the sports staff of THE GREYHOUND.

Bullington plays soccer, captains the varsity baseball team and is in the upper percentage of his class. Although unopposed, his name will still appear on the ballot, May 11, with that of France, his running mate.

Blair Wins Annual Lee Oratorical Gold Medal

Joseph Blair, speaking on "George Washington, a great American," was declared winner of the annual Lee Gold Medal oratorical contest held last Tuesday in the Library of the Jenkins Memorial Library. William Hicken, a freshman science student, placed second in the competition.

Seven speakers participated in the oratorical foray. First returns of the judges resulted in a tie between Blair and Hicken; after a two minute extemporaneous talk on "Juvenile Delinquency; How it can be curbed," Blair was declared the winner.

In the near future, the Lee Gold Medal for Oratory will be presented to the winner. This medal, founded by Mrs. Josephine Lee, is awarded to the student who is judged winner on the basis of composition and delivery.

Judges for the contest were James Dietz and Dr. John V. Walsh. Dietz, now attending Johns Hopkins Graduate School was winner of the Lee Oratory Medal last year.

Other participants in the meet were Francis Stafford, Neale Smith, Gayle Phillips, John Fitzpatrick, and Bruce Alderman. Mr. James A. Perrott served as moderator.

Blair, a philosophy student, has participated in many speaking and forensic tourneys. He placed second in the Hearst Oratorical contest.

Stafford Wins Hearst Oratorical Contest

Francis Stafford, freshman science student, was declared the new regional college oratorical champion last Friday evening in a contest sponsored by the Hearst newspaper chain. This entitles him to a $500 U. S. Savings Bond as well as a Boston trip for the Eastern finals. If again victorious, he will travel to California for the national finals.

This is the third try for Stafford who first entered the contest in his junior year in high school. Going

'51 Grads Face Full Schedule

Seniors will be "busy beavers" for the next two months. Deadline for their thesis is today, next Friday is the prom, and worst of all—exams are coming.

The prom will be held next week in the Caswell room of the Lord Baltimore Hotel with music by Carl Hamilton and his orchestra. A limited number of tickets to the affair are available for underclassmen.

Following the humbug of last-minute cramming for finals, the prospective graduates will hold the traditional Senior Banquet. The dinner is planned for June 13 in the Gold Room of the Park Plaza Hotel.

The banquet is followed two days later by a graduation dance in the Chesapeake Lounge at the Hotel Emerson. The semi-formal affair will be reserved for the members of the graduating class.

Graduation day is on Sunday, June 17. In the morning, the class will attend the annual Baccalaureate Mass in the Student Chapel. After Mass breakfast will be served in the Oak Room of the Library Building.

Barring inclement weather, the graduation exercises will be conducted on the campus lawn. The Very Rev. Thomas Murray, S. J., President of the college, will present diplomas to the seniors.

Debonnaires To Supply Music For Affair .

Tomorrow evening the Hounds and their dates will dance to the music of the Debonnaires at the "Spring Fantasy". The dance will be staged in the Evergreen Gymnasium from nine until one o'clock.

The gymnasium will be furnished for a cabaret style hop. Arrangements have been made to accommodate a large crowd.

Watson Handles Lighting

Edwin Watson is taking charge of the lighting department. He announced that some of the old lighting has been renovated for the best possible effects.

Tentative plans have been made for favors of small bouquets to be given to each girl. The tables will be decorated with ornamented glass ash trays which may be kept by the guests.

Decorations Completed

Hugh Meade stated that the decorations are completed and "The Spring Fantasy theme stands out predominantly." The Rev. Vincent Beatty, S. J., of the Chemistry Department, assisted the decoration committee and added his own ideas to complete the theme.

Tickets are $1.50 per couple. They may be obtained at the bookstore or at the door. Tables may be reserved upon purchase of tickets.

Fruit drinks and ginger ale will be served in the recreation room.

"Things look bright so far", stated James Garland, general chairman, "the dance should be a great success."

Staff Changes Annual Format

Loyola's 1951 Evergreen, the annual yearbook, has undergone a change once more. Robert L. Owen, editor-in-chief, announced that he was forced to reduce the size of the book because of the constant lack of funds.

The size of the book will be 8" by 10" instead of 9" by 11" as originally planned. The yearbook has consistently been hampered by the lack of money and advertising.

The contents will follow closely those of former years, except that some space will be devoted to the undergraduates. The pictures of approximately eighty or ninety underclassmen will be published.

The yearbook is expected to come out sometime shortly after the close of school in June. Copies will be sent by mail to those who have ordered them. The senior class and the patrons will receive the book free of charge. Owen said that a tentative price of $2.50 has been set.

He further stated, "though lack of funds has been a considerable handicap this year, we feel that the book nevertheless will be one of lasting memory to those who own it."

Daily Devotions Scheduled For May

Annual daily May devotions in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary will begin next Tuesday. Each school day at 11:50 to 12:00 a.m. the student body will assemble around the statue of Our Lady of Evergreen to sing hymns, recite the Rosary and the Litany to the Blessed Virgin.

After the recitation of the Litany, a member of either the Junior or Senior Sodality or a campus leader will deliver a prepared four minute sermon on some aspect in the life of Mary or her influence as a mediatrix of grace for us.

Singing of a hymn will close the devotions. The Rev. Joseph A. d'Inville, S. J., moderator of the Junior Sodality, will prepare the topics for talks and assign them to the volunteer speakers.

Dean's List

Increase in Honor Students Noted Over Last Quarter

The Dean's List of Distinguished Students for the third quarter shows an increase of 17 students over the second quarter, and 23 more than the first quarter.

The following students are placed on the Dean's List for having attained an average of 85% or over in each and every subject for the third quarter, ending April 6, 1951:

June 1951 — Frank P. Ames, George W. Fitzpatrick, Edward E. Howser, Jr., Jerome Kozak, Brother Camillus Kelly, Anthony Lewandowski, Louis D. Pfeiffer, Frank J. Stass, Francis X. Trainor, Buford C. Zephir.

June 1952 — Charles B. Baker, Daniel L. Bargette, Frank R. Bellomo, Henry F. Bongart, William M. Boetler, Vernon M. Gelhaus, James E. Golley, Bernard J. Haske, George L. Hermes, Wilfred F. Holdefer, Jr., Patrick Leonard, James A. Lizewski, Lawrence F. Rodowsky, Joseph M. Serio, G. Joseph Sills, James J. Smith, Leroy A. Wagner, Hans R. Wilhemsen.

June 1953 — Melvin N. Cohen, John W. Farrell, James L. Gumnick, Donald J. Lansinger, Vincent J. Leahy, Jr., Herman E. Letke, Frank R. Manson, Sebastien J. Odenhal, Julius W. Pyles, Marion Restivo, Robert E. L. Robinson, Malcolm S. Rose, William J. Ruzicka, Victor Sudnick.

June 1954 — Robert Bruce Alderman, Edward A. Ellison, Jr., Joseph C. Farrell, Marvin A. Feldstein, James C. Greenwell, William B. Harmon, William J. Hicken, Joel Hittleman, William L. Lafferty, Paul C. McCusker, Joseph A. Mead, Charles Hehling, Charles H. Metz, Raymond J. O'Donnell, Richard J. Otenasek, Lee S. Rome, Harry Rubin, James F. Stafford, Bernard J. Weigman, Jr.

Special — John J. Kircher.

Split Dates Set For Spring Play

Loyola College dramatists have begun initial preparations for the presentation of Paul Vincent Carroll's Shadow and Substance. The play will be given on split dates, Friday, May 11 and Sunday, May 13 at St. Ignatius Auditorium, Calvert and Madison Streets.

The actors will show a modified version of the 1936 Broadway hit—minus all feminine roles. Tradition forbids the use of girls in any Mask and Rapier dramatic productions.

Since Shadow and Substance contained four female parts, William Volenick, president of the society, rewrote the roles and adapted them for male use. It was necessary to drop one of the parts.

Casting, under the direction of the Rev. Leo G. Monaghan, S.J., society moderator, has been completed. Sophomore John Kelleher and Junior G. Joseph Sills, will portray the lead roles of Canon Skeritt and Gavin, respectively.

The rest of the cast includes: Neale Smith as Father Kirwan; Conrad Janish, Uncle Dennis; Malcolm Rose, Schoolmaster O'Flingsley; John Kohlway, Francis Ignatius O'Connor; Paul Steinhagen, Father Corr and Lawrence Rodowsky, Martin Mullahone.

Special — John J. Kircher.

Sodalists Get Dance Plans Underway

Junior Sodality members are completing plans for the fifth annual Queen's Ball. The affair will be held on Saturday, May 19, in the gym from nine until one to the music of the Men of Note.

Chief feature of the dance will be the crowning of the Blessed Virgin's statue by the princesses of the Queen's Court. The court will consist of four girls, chosen by a panel of Georgetown Sodalists from a group of photographs.

Pictures may be entered for judging by presenting them to the prefect of the Junior Sodality, or to any of the officers, together with an entrance fee of fifty cents.

The Sodality has issued an invitation to the parents of students and to prominent friends of the College to become patrons in the dance program; the cost of patronage is one dollar. Student patrons are being accepted for twenty-five cents.

Glee Club Concert

The Loyola College Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Felice S. Iula, will present their annual Spring Concert on Tuesday night, May 29, at the Alcazar, at 8:30 P. M. The program will consist of a number of soloist acts featuring tenor Joseph McCall, bass-baritone Salvatore A. Battaglia, with Theodore Niznik at the piano.

Following the concert, which ends 10:00 p. m., will be an informal dance in the Alcazar ballroom. The music will be provided by Bob Iula's orchestra.

Tickets may be purchased at the door or from members of the Glee Club for $1.00.

Greyhounds Drop Three; Beat American U., Bees

by John Fitzpatrick

After winning its first three starts of the current collegiate season, Loyola College's baseball team found the road a little rockier, and dropped three of its last four games.

In their first conference contest of the campaign, the Greyhounds fashioned an easy 10-0 victory over American University, behind the six hit pitching of Dan Donohue. Donohue, the bellwether of Lefty Reitz's mound staff, was in mid-season form as he struck out the first two batters to face him on six pitches, and then proceeded to dish up goose eggs to the visitors throughout the remainder of the contest.

Kirby Hits Homer

Bozey Kirby, Jim Bullington, and George Franz put the wood to the ball with authority as big-league scouts Johnny Neun of the New York Yankees, and Sheriff Fowble of the Cincinnati Reds watched proceedings from behind home plate. Kirby weighed in with a two-run homer in the eighth inning, and Jack Fallon contributed a booming triple to the winning cause.

Faculty And Students Vie In Chess Match

An elimination match between five members of the faculty and a like number of the Chess Club members got under way Monday. Each student will play one of the teachers and the team winning most matches will be acclaimed the victor. The five faculty members participating are Messrs. Dawkins, Perrott, Pugh, Slager and Snyder. Opposing them are Thomas Junas, Dennis Scully, William Sheehan, Thomas Garrity and George Hermes. Junas, president of the club has announced that the chess tournament was very well received and that twenty entries have been made.

run for the Jesuits, and then Don Pearson smashed two more home with a double to give the Hounds a three run first inning lead. Spotty pitching by the Eagles enabled the Loyolans to score four more runs in the fifth to ice the game, and Fallon's triple coupled with an American U. boot produced the eighth tally of the game. Kirby's homer over the right field fence concluded the scoring.

Mercier Drives In Run

The United States Naval Academy hopped on Jack Sybert and Bob Matthews for six runs in the opening inning, and then coasted to a 10-1 victory over Loyola behind the three hit pitching of Art Potter. Bill Mercier, Ted Markiewicz, and Mel Wright were the only Hounds to find the batting range, with Mercier's single sending Wright home with Loyola's sole tally.

Wildness proved Sybert's undoing as the Middies enjoyed a field day in the opening session. Matthews relieved Sybert, and held the Sailors in check until the late innings when they cashed in two runs in both the seventh and eighth stanzas.

Baltimore Game Thriller

Loyola recovered from its loss to Navy with a thrilling 6-5 victory over Baltimore University at Herring Run Park. Donohue racked up his second straight win while spacing out seven hits, but almost saw the game blow up in his face as he grew tired, and the Bees clobbered him for five runs in the seventh and eighth innings.

Loyola scored two runs in the third inning and then registered singletons in the first, second, seventh, and eighth to provide the winning margin. The victory was Loyola's second against no losses in the Mason-Dixon Conference.

Loyola suffered its first defeat at the hands of a Mason-Dixon opponent last Friday at Evergreen as Western Maryland copped a free-swinging 12-7 decision.

Villanova Wins

The Green Terrors hopped on Jerry Malone, Jack Sybert, and Jack Potthast for eight runs in the first three frames to insure the victory.

Loyola stepped into higher competition last Saturday afternoon, and roared a 10-0 decision to Villanova. Jerry Malone and Jack Potthast toiled on the hill for the Greyhounds, and were rapped for twelve hits and ten runs by the Wildcats.

Taxation Is Good

Economically speaking, the college student of today faces a gloomy future unless the congressional tax writers enact legislation to raise not only revenue sufficient to meet the immediate outlays of the government, but also an appreciable surplus to help combat the two attributes of inflation—excessive purchasing power in the hands of the consumer and an enormous federal debt of over 250 billion dollars.

Producers of consumer goods are already beginning to feel the pinch of material shortages caused by our preparedness program. This raw material shortage means that fewer and fewer consumer goods will be appearing on the market. So long as the public has the money, they will compete against each other to buy the dwindling supply of consumer products, resulting in an ever increasing inflationary "bubble."

Price controls act only as a temporary deterrent; those who can't buy will horde their money. Once the controls are lifted the savings will appear, consumer competition will begin and prices will skyrocket.

Our government's debt of approximately $257,000,000,000 is scattered widely throughout the banking system of the United States, affording an excellent base for the expansion of credit throughout the country. In its essence, credit is nothing more than immediate purchasing power with a promise to pay it back in the future. This immediate purchasing power added to the supply of "real money" in circulation acts as wonderful fuel for the "fire of inflation."

Disregarding the now existing inflationary trend, let us now turn to fifteen years from now—the time when most experts expect the world to be "cooled-off." The students of today will then be at that stage of life when they are trying to establish a comfortable home and maintain a business of their own or someone else. The pressure of world tension has been eased, and the preparedness program has been greatly curtailed. Inevitably, lobbyists for the producers of consumer goods will be applying the pressure for the end of price controls, and bankers will be seeking an end to credit controls. Once the controls are lifted, then the inflationary jump will be enormous, and we, just reaching the prime of our life, will be caught in the middle.

The time for action is now! Taxation legislation should be enacted today, which will be sufficient to reduce the consumer purchasing power, and which purchasing power in turn should be applied to a reduction in the federal debt.

A Job Well Done

Tomorrow evening the sophomore and freshman classes will sponsor a low cost dance in the Alumni Gymnasium. Much hard work and time has gone into the venture, which promises from all indications to be a huge success.

James Garland, general chairman of the affair, deserves special praise for his demonstration of keen administrative ability in gathering around him a staff of efficient workers. Orchids also go to Edwin Watson, Loyola's untiring student electrician, for a job more than well done.

More than is necessary to make such an event complete is promised by the joint frosh-sop committee handling the arrangements. All in all, the dance deserves the support of the entire student body.

MacArthur Dismissal Justified, But Student Say Method Bad

QUESTION: What is your opinion of the President's dismissal of General MacArthur?

Joseph Buck: BS II—1954. I thought it was a wise move. I believe that he (MacArthur) was a little old for the job.

Thomas Grahn: AB—1953. The move was all right, but the president's method was very crude.

Paul Steinhagen: PhB—1953. To the Oriental mind the man who occupies an important post cannot be dismissed without causing a "loss of face" both for the man and the country he represents.

Francis Hubbard: AB—1951. Strictly speaking the president was acting within his authority, but I think it was a bad move in view of the world situation. MacArthur should have been reprimanded in some other fashion.

William S. Kneavel: BS II—1951. Whether MacArthur was right or wrong in his policy is not the pertinent question; he definitely was out of order in breaking the chain of command and in this respect he warranted dismissal. However, the method of dismissal was far from complimentary to the MacArthur record.

Alumni Doings

First Spring Homecoming Crammed With Activities

by Terrence Burke

With a successful Alumni Communion Breakfast tucked safely under the Association belt, plans are moving to completion for the first of a proposed series of spring homecoming weekends.

Entertainment committee chairman Charles Meagher has announced that a series of athletic contests climaxed by a dance in the Evergreen Gymnasium on May 12 will be on the program for the initial homecoming effort.

Scheduled are a lacrosse game with the University of Maryland at 3 p. m. Friday, May 11, two baseball games against Randolph-Macon and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia beginning at noon on Saturday, with the dance beginning at 9 p. m. Benediction will be held in the Chapel between baseball games.

Sid Cowan's orchestra is to supply the music for the cabaret-style affair. Tickets at $3.00, tax included, are available from ticket chairman Jere Hamill at Plaza 1126 (dy) or Valley 1460 (night).

Also in the offing is a softball league being formed under the direction of Bernie Saltyak. Four teams have already been formed, and Bernie is asking alumni who are interested in entering teams or in playing individually to contact him at Belmont 2069.

Planned are two games weekly, on the best two of Monday, Tuesday or Thursday late afternoons. Best team prizes will be awarded at the conclusion of play, which is to begin in late May or early June.

FROM THE LIBRARY

There are not in all literature three types so varied as historical novels, novelized histories, and pseudo-historical potboilers like The Infinite Woman or So Great a Queen, that deface bookshelves in every sizable drugstore south of Boston. One is light literature, the other lying lyricism, and the third lazy licentiousness.

Pseudo-historical novels are neither novels nor history; they enter literary discussion only as crude examples of what literature is not. Their technique is to surround a clutch of Hollywood types, complete in make-up and build-up, with a variety of plausible dates and implausible situations, in a never-never land which the author (quite alone, and only because he flunked high-school history) is able to identify as Renaissance Italy or Revolutionary France.

Novelized history, an art learned of Gibbon by such as Van Loon and Wells, remodels the issues and motives of other times so as to divert the course of past events into the pleasanter channels it might have run if the author had been God.

A historical novel is a novel: it tells a story that hints at the answer to "What is man?" It reincarnates in its characters, real or fancied, the life of a time and place. It sets in relief their experience of the problem of evil, their decisive exercise of human freedom. It demands in its creator a deeply sympathetic knowledge of human nature and of the period he describes.

The master of this genre is Sigrid Undset. But America has, in Kenneth Roberts, the equal of Stevenson and Scott. In Arundel, Oliver Wiswell, and Rabble in Arms, he paints in its true colors a critical period our schoolbooks only obscured. When you have read all three, you will know something important about the American Revolution—and perhaps about the course of history.'

Trackmen Downed By St. Joe, Win Triangular Meet

As we look back upon the past three track meets of the Hounds, we see that they have not fared as well as had been expected. Loyola has won only one out of their three meets to date, but this is no sign that the squad will not be successful in their future contests. They were victorious over American U. and Gallaudet in a triangular meet but fell victim to Hopkins and a powerful St. Joseph's squad, in Philadelphia.

In the triangular meet held on April 14, Loyola rose forth and copped nearly all the honors. The final score read Loyola 83; Gallaudet 33; and American U. 25. John Benzing was high scorer for the day by tying for first place in the high jump, winning the low hurdles, and placing second in the high hurdles thus scoring 11½ points. Also garnering victories in the races were Tom Volatile in the mile; Ed Colbourne in the ½ and ¼ miles; George Kimmerlein in the two mile, and Bob Cossentino first place tie in the pole vault. Harry Lentz and Malcolm Rose tied for high jump honors, while Bernie Weigman, Ed Davis and Bill Manger also placed in the ½ mile, mile and two mile races. The latter three mentioned have shown great speed and improvement during the past few weeks.

Lose To Eagles

Last week, the Hounds journeyed to Philadelphia and were downed by a powerful St. Joe squad by a 92½ to 23½ score. This has been the biggest defeat for the Hounds since American U. did the trick in 1947 by a 104-21 count. The only victor for the Hounds was Joe Bowes, running the 100 yard dash. He ran the distance in 10.3, his fastest time to date. It was in this meet that Frank Cossentino set a new Loyola record by pole vaulting 10'6". Gregorek threw the discus 120 feet in this meet and lost by a mere four feet to McNichols, the pace setter for St. Joe.

Although the Greyhounds haven't been too successful in their first three meets, they have continually been placing in all of the events. Those who have placed in all of their races are George Kimmerlein, who is undefeated; Ed Colbourne, John Benzing, George Field, Joe Bowes.

Hound Linksmen Bow To Terps; Gain Second Win Over Bees

by Andy Marx

The University of Maryland's golf team repeated last year's triumph over the Green and Grey linksmen by edging them 5-4 at Mount Pleasant on April 11.

Captain Jim Pelisek pushed the Hounds off to a good start by besting the Terp's number one man, Bob Miller, 4 and 3, and Bill Gross and Jack Cooney added another point as both halved their respective matches. Frank McCoy chipped in with a 1 up win and then teamed with Cooney to take best ball for the second set. However, the visitors from College Park then sewed up their victory by downing Lee Bardelman and Tony Pistorio, and by taking the first and third best balls.

Down Bees

On April 18 also at Mount Pleasant, the Hounds turned in their second victory over Baltimore U. this season, bumping them by a 5-4 score. Earlier this season the varsity had romped to an 8-1 triumph over the Bees. Pelisek bowed to Maury Bailey 4 and 3, as the latter posted a 74 with the help of 5 birdies. Bill Gross's 75 was good for a 4 and 3 win over Charles Kreider, but Cooney was upset by Schott 1 up.

B.U. and Penn State Bow To Stickmen

On Friday, April 13th, on Evergreen Field the Loyola lacrosse team garnered its initial victory of the season over Baltimore U., by a 13-8 margin. After three close periods of play, the "Hounds" scored six goals in the final quarter to win going away.

McFadden, B. U.'s star midfielder, started off the scoring in the first period on an extra man play. Frank Kimmel of Loyola scored the first of his four goals to knot the score a minute later.

Kimmel Scores

The game continued nip and tuck throughout the first half with the Loyolans leaving the field at the intermission with a slim 5-4 lead.

The teams traded two goals apiece in the third period with McFadden and Beasley of the Bees adding to their school's cause and Kimmel and Tommy Wagner countering for the Hounds.

The Loyola attack, after three ragged quarters began to click in the last period and scored 6 goals while their defensive teammates, lead by Ned Callahan, were holding the Bees to two markers. Frank Nasco, Charlie Wagner, Jack Hooper, Tommy Oaster, Mike Ford and Fred Carozza all dented the Maroon goal for markers.

A wet field hindered the footing of both teams, but it was the superior reserve strength of Loyola that spelled the difference. Captain Frank Kimmel upped his season's scoring total to seven goals and has marked himself as a contender for All-American honors.

Down Penn State

Last Saturday at State College Pa., Bish Baker's stickmen defeated Penn State in a high scoring duel by a 14-12 score. In a blazing Frank Merriwell finish, the Hounds gained the laurels after being hopelessly outclassed by the home team.

For the first three periods of play, the Nittany Lions seemed to have the game on ice, leading at the half 7-3 and at the end of the third quarter 12-6.

Then, the second half power of Loyola began to show. The Green attack hitting on all eight cylinders, crushed the Blue defence for eight goals while the Lions were held scoreless.

Nasco Stars

Frank Nasco, freshman star for the Hounds, poured four markers through the State defence; his last tying the score at 12-12. Then two quick markers by Jack Hooper and Eddie Miller, who turned in the hat trick for the Hounds, put the Bakermen ahead to stay.

Running With The Hounds

Catholic Conference Proposed By N.Y. Editor

by Joe Steffens, Sports Editor

Pete Keyrouze, sports editor of the Troy Observer and former Siena student, has formulated a plan of setting up a National Catholic Intercollegiate Association Conference with 12 district conferences. The plan would embrace 70 Catholic colleges throughout the nation. It is the hope of Mr. Keyrouze that the winners of each of the respective conferences would be able to meet in a post-season tourney which would then determine the true Catholic champion of the nation.

The April 9 edition of the Siena News carried a map of the U. S. on which the proposed districts were set off and the different conferences were listed. Lack of space has made it impossible to reprint the map in this issue. Loyola would be a member of the conference bearing the title of Mid-Atlantic conference and composed of LaSalle, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, Villanova, Georgetown, Catholic U., Mt. St. Mary's and Loyola.

Plan Is Questionable

On paper this plan seems to be very good but whether or not such a scheme could be put into effect is questionable. In the first place it is the opinion of Mr. Keyrouze that he has formed 12 conferences, in each of which, each team is of the same caliber or as close as possible. However, to rate Loyola on a par with such nationally ranked teams as Villanova, LaSalle and Georgetown is indeed a very flattering compliment; still a look at the record book will show that such a presumption is a little far fetched.

To remedy such a situation it would be necessary to reorganize the various conferences so that the weaker teams would play one another.

This would mean that the respective schools would have further to travel and therefore a greater expense to the individual college. In view of the present economic situation such an arrangement would be impossible for the smaller colleges.

Netmen Lose To W. Md., J. H. Thump American U. In Lone Win

Loyola's tennis hopes were all but shattered during the past two weeks as they were able to win but one of three conference matches to even their record in the Mason-Dixon at 2 and 2.

Western Maryland triumphed 5-4 and then Johns Hopkins scored a 6-3 win over the Hounds, practically dropping them from the running for Northern division honors in league play. The lone win was a 9-0 shellacking of American University.

The only bright spots in this rather bleak picture have been the outstanding play of Joe Lacy and Talbott Cockey, 3 and 4 men respectively, who remain undefeated in singles and the good showing John Darrell made in dropping heart-breaking matches to Brown of Western Maryland and Karoghanian of the Jays.

An upset victory in the number one doubles gave Western Maryland their 5-4 win but in the Hopkins match the Greyhounds completely collapsed in doubles after gaining a 3-3 singles split.

In lacing American U. Loyola met with little trouble dropping only one set in the course of the afternoon. Bob Bradley and Cockey scored the easiest wins of the day with 6-1, 6-0 victories.
